

Good Sam Notes

“Go and Do Likewise”

Alleluia! The Lord is risen indeed!

It is wonderful to share this glorious Easter news with so many on this day.

If you haven't been to Good Sam for a while, or if this is your first time, and are thinking of making a “new start”, just as we start anew with the risen Christ, be sure to check out the rest of this newsletter for various events and activities or drop by the Greeter's Table after the service for a more detailed packet.

All of us on the Good Samaritan staff wishing you a joyous and happy Easter season.

Sunday Adult Christian Education after 9:30am service

April 11 - 25, May 2	Laura Henson	Christian Assertiveness

Our Next Class: Christian Assertiveness

As Christians, we don't realize that it's okay to be assertive. We've been taught Christians should be passive. However, we can learn to speak out the truth in love and not anger. Please join Laura Henson, family therapist, for three weeks of assertiveness training!

There is childcare during our Sunday Adult Education. For older children, Margie Orem conducts the children's bell/chime choirs.

Safeguarding God's People comes to Good Sam

April 24

9:00am to 4:00pm , Roetter Hall

Anyone who spends dedicated time with children or people in their homes, any church employees, as well as certain others must attend the class at least once (more info on attendance requirements is available from the diocese).

The training is mandatory for church employees, Lay Eucharistic Visitors and Worship Leaders but not for Lay Eucharistic Ministers.

The class is beneficial for everyone to learn how to safeguard God's people, young and old.

If you haven't been to this seminar in several eons, it wouldn't hurt to take it as a refresher while it is here at Good Sam as the course has changed in recent years.

To register, please go to the Diocesan website <http://www.edsd.org/>
